Summary:

Grace is the teacher who imparts to the believer the things of God. To understand what God is trying to show us, we must have spiritual vision. This vision is impossible without the Holy Spirit, who administers God's moral law in love and reveals to us that life has radically changed since Jesus ended the Mosaic Law. One of the biggest problems in the church today is that Christians have not been trained to read the Bible correctly. What was true under the law may no longer be true under grace; we therefore cannot read our Bibles as if only one covenant was in existence from Genesis to Revelation. Under the old covenant, doing was important; under the new covenant, believing is now important. Faith in what Jesus did for us on the cross takes all the pressure off us to perform and enables us to do things we could never do through our own efforts.

Notes:

1. God's grace has moved the believer out from under the law's oppressive requirements. Sin can only dominate us if we are operating under Mosaic Law. Following a long list of rules will never establish morality in our lives.
2. What was true under the law may not be true any longer. When we hear the "Word of Truth" preached in church, we must correctly analyze whether it is Old-Testament or New-Testament truth.
3. There are big differences between the truth before the cross and the truth after the cross.
4. Jesus Christ changed the concepts of faith, love, sin, salvation, and financial giving.
